NHESC North Herts Primary Support Service

North Herts Primary Support Service Information for Parents & Carers

North Herts Primary Support Service (NHPSS) is a commissioned service established by the North Herts ESC, to provide social, emotional and mental health (SEMH) support for pupils in Letchworth, Baldock and Royston partnership schools.

Support may be delivered through short-term interventions lasting either six or twelve weeks, or through more extensive outreach support. The baseline outcomes for pupils working with NHPSS are to achieve positive progress and enhanced engagement in their learning. This is aimed at addressing their social, emotional, and mental health challenges, enabling them to access a full curriculum by removing barriers to their learning.

As part of this support we anticipate varying levels of parental contact, particularly for pupils requiring complex support to meet their needs. This can include but not limited to: regular meetings, contributions to the EHCP process, and participation in safeguarding efforts, among other forms of engagement.
